122 MINERS ENTOMBED IN NEW MEXICO MINE

TWO BODIES TAKEN FROM THE MINE THURSDAY EVENING

Is Second Mine Disaster in Dawson in the Last Decade

BULLETIN
(By The Associated Press)
Denver, Colo., Feb. 8.—A correspondent of The Rocky Mountain News, who returned to Raton, N. M., from Dawson tonight, telephoned the News that the Phelps-Dodge corporation, owner of Mine No. 1, where 122 miners were entombed today, had established a censorship and was refusing to give newspaper correspondents details of the accident.

Dawson, N. M., Feb. 8.—A terrific explosion that rocked the workings of coal Mine No. 1 of the Phelps-Dodge Corporation here today entombed 122 miners working inside.

At a late hour tonight two bodies had been recovered and a statement given to The Associated Press by the company declared "we don't know whether the men in the mine are alive or not."

The explosion occurred at 2:30 p. m., and tore away all of the heavy concrete work at the mouth of the main entry. Within a few minutes after the blast rescue workers had cleared the debris from the mouth of the mine and a rescue crew, led by W. D. Brennan, general manager of the mine, entered.

The imprisoned miners are believed to be about 5,000 feet from the portal of the mine. The explosion did not wreck the mine fan and ventilation soon was established. The cause of the explosion is a mystery.

A statement by the company declared the mine was well crinkled and was not gaseous. The explosion is the second in the Phelps-Dodge property here, a similar accident in Mine No. 2 killing 263 lives in 1912.

While company workers were continuing their efforts tonight, the United States bureau of mines started a rescue car here from Hanna, Wyoming and a second car, sent by the Colorado Fuel and Iron company, was on the way from Trinidad.

Second Disaster in Decade
DENVER, Colo., February 8.—Today's mine disaster is the second in a decade experienced by the little mining town of Dawson, New Mexico. Entrapped in a tunnel of the Stag Canyon Coal Mine No. 2, also owned by the Phelps-Dodge corporation, which owns Mine No. 1, where today's explosion occurred, on Tuesday afternoon Oct. 21, 1913, by a terrific explosion 263 miners lost their lives before rescue crews could reach them and two of their rescuers were killed by the fatal gases as they fought to reach their comrades in the fume-filled death chambers underground.

Twenty-three men, all but six of whom were in a distant portion of the mine when the fierce blast struck the interior workings—were all who survived.

Leo Finn was a business caller at Jacksonville Thursday from Ogden, Utah.

American Destroyer Was Not Included

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—Official advice today showed that Turkish authorities at Smyrna had refused to include the American destroyer Edsall as among foreign craft ordered out of that port. Turkish commander elected constructive orders from his government closing the port to foreign warships of more than 1,000 tons burden as not applying to American craft also as a matter of official record the ship was slightly exceeded that limit. It was assumed by officials here that the action of the Turkish authorities in Smyrna in refusing the Edsall from the harbor was taken on the tonnage and for the purpose of avoiding the necessity of passing upon the more delicate question of American neutrality.

CONDITION OF INDUSTRY IS EXCELLENT NOW

Continues Unabated Thru-out the Middle West is Report

(By The Associated Press)
KANSAS CITY, Feb. 8.—Industrial activity in the middle west continues virtually unabated, despite a slight seasonal increase in unemployment, Richard T. Jones, district director of the United States unemployment service announced here tonight. In the monthly report for the fourth district which comprises Kansas, Missouri, Iowa, Nebraska, South Dakota, North Dakota, and Minnesota.

Figures compiled from 1,104 representative firms in the district show that 213,883 were employed January 15, 1923, as compared with 216,525 December 15, 1922, a decrease of 1.2 per cent. A small surplus of common labor is reported in several states of the district, but nowhere is the unemployment situation characterized as serious.

Building operations, the report says, are continuing on a large scale except in sections where the weather has interfered. The report stated that in Missouri conditions indicate a high rate of industrial activity with less than the usual winter unemployment. The report for Iowa and Minnesota said:

"Iowa industrial employment is encouraging, although seasonal reductions are noted in brick and tile, candy and confectionery, wholesale dry goods, and on outside construction work."

SENATE OVERRULES RECOMMENDATION TO REDUCE ITEM

Tables Amendments Meant to Reduce Original Amount

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—The senate today aligned itself with the house in deciding to overrule the budget bureau's recommendation as to expenditures for work on rivers and harbors.

By a vote of 46 to 35, the senate tabled amendments to the annual army appropriation bill which would have reduced the waterways item from $56,530,000 as passed by the house to the $27,000,000 figure set by the bureau in one case and to $42,000,000 in another.

A final effort by Senator Wadsworth, Republican, New York, to cut the item to $50,000,000 was defeated, 38 to 44.

The vote on the waterways provision came after the senate had devoted practically three days to its consideration and it was expected to clear the way for the early action on the army bill itself.

Mr. Wadsworth who has charge of the measure on the floor, obtained an agreement today for limitation of debate after 2 p. m. tomorrow to ten minutes for each senator on any one amendment. It was thought probable that a final vote would be reached before adjournment, leaving the British debt funding question and the shipping bill as the principal unfinished business.

The majority of senators voting to approve the house figure of $56,000,000 for the river and harbor fund, defeating proposals by Senators Borah, Republican, of Idaho, and Lenroot, Republican, of Wisconsin to reduce it to $27,000,000 and $42,000,000 respectively, were Democrats, 26, voting with 20 Republicans to table the reduction motions.

Twenty-nine Republicans were joined by six Democrats in favor of reductions.

On the motion of Senator Wadsworth to cut the fund to $50,000,000 eight Democrats and thirty Republicans lined up against twenty-four Democrats and twenty Republicans supporting the larger appropriation.

HERRICK IN VERBAL FLIGHT IN HOUSE IS BROUGHT TO EARTH

Aerial Daredevil of Congress Shacks the Members

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—Representative Manuel Herrick, Republican, Oklahoma, who calls himself the "aerial daredevil of congress" took a verbal flight in the house today when he was brought down suddenly by objections from members who said he had transgressed the rules of parliamentary debate.

The Oklahoma representative took as his text stories about his alleged "romance" with a young lady in Washington, published by the Washington Herald and Washington Times. He denied the stories in detail and assailed the two newspapers, the Hearst publications in general and certain individuals and when his observations reached an altitude not usually recorded in public print, Representative Stafford, Republican Wisconsin objected that the speaker had used language "shocking to the sensibilities of all members of the house."

Thereupon there was a hurried consultation on the house floor as a result of which Mr. Herrick withdrew everything he had said.

THE DAY'S EVENTS IN WASHINGTON

(By The Associated Press)
The house passed the administration bill providing for the consolidation of the diplomatic and consular service.

The farm loan board reported to congress that loans aggregating $224,301,400 and numbering 74,055, were made by the twelve federal farm loan banks last year.

Opening of the grave of an American seaman in a Brooklyn cemetery to determine whether the Russian crown jewels were buried there was ordered by the war department.

President Harding was criticized by Senator Harrison, Democrat, Mississippi for urging enactment of the shipping bill during his address to congress on the British debt settlement.

The senate aligned itself with the house by overruling budget bureau recommendations and voting $56,530,000 for river and harbor improvement in the army bill.

Further inquiry by the senate agriculture committee into the proposed Armour-Norris packer consolidation was recommended by a sub-committee that has been considering the project.

Announcement was made that the United States and Costa Rica and signed a protocol removing some of the obstacles to construction of an inter-oceanic canal along the Nicaraguan route.

Official advisers showed that the Turkish authorities at Smyrna did not include the American destroyer Edsall as among foreign war craft ordered out of that port.

Unanimous consent was given by the house for consideration of legislation giving effect to the British settlement agreement. Approval by an overwhelming majority was regarded as certain.

PLANS TO BRING UP LEGISLATION ON BRITISH DEBT

Passage of Measure Regarded Certain by Managers

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—Arrangements were made today in the house to bring up tomorrow legislation which would give effect to the British debt settlement agreement submitted to congress yesterday by President Harding.

Passage of the measure by one overwhelming majority was regarded as foregone conclusion and Republican managers hoped to obtain a vote before night.

Final action then would rest with the senate, but there were indications that the administration shipping bill would be given precedence there at least for a time.

Advocates of early action on the debt question had not given up hope, however, of displacing the ship bill with the debt legislation.

Unanimous consent for consideration of the debt measure was given in the house after the ways and means committee had reported out by a vote of twelve to three the bill introduced yesterday by Representative Burton, Republican, Ohio, a member of the American debt commission.

As amended by the committee the measure not only would give congressional approval to the work of the British and American debt commissions, but would authorize the American commission to effect settlements, similar but not more favorable, in terms with the other debtor nations.

The limitation on the terms to be reached with France, Italy, Belgium and the other nations owing money to the United States was written in at the suggestion of Republican members of the committee after Mr. Burton had announced at an open hearing that it was not the purpose of the American commission to arrange terms with those countries which were more favorable than those given Great Britain.

Three Democrats on the committee voted against the legislation and two voted for it. The Republicans were unanimously in favor of the bill.

A division among the Democrats in the house was forecast but in agreeing to consideration of the measure tomorrow, Representative Garrett, the Democratic leader, said that regardless of how they would vote the Democrats had no disposition to delay action.

Representative Mondell, Wyoming, the Republican leader, announced that debate on the bill would not be "unduly limited."

The majority managers said there probably would be about four hours of general discussion. This arrangement would make possible a vote late in the day as it was agreed that the house should meet an hour earlier than usual.

Calling attention that the Democrats had not been represented on the American debt commission Democratic members of the ways and means committee questioned Representative Burton as to details of the negotiations with the British "commission."

The debt commissioner went into some of the intimate points of the conversations had with the present mission but his statement in that regard was withheld from the record of the hearing on the ground that its publication might prove prejudicial to the public interest.

SENATOR SIMMONS WITHDRAWS FROM SPEAKER'S FIGHT

Ill Health Causes North Carolina Senator to Retire from Race

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—Withdrawal of Senator Simmons of North Carolina from the race with Senator Robinson of Arkansas for Democratic leadership in the next senate when Senator Underwood of Alabama, the present Democratic leader will retire was announced today by Senator Overman of North Carolina on behalf of his colleague.

The announcement by Senator Overman was regarded as assuring the election for Senator Robinson.

Senator Overman's statement said in part:

"My colleague, Senator Simmons, from his sick bed in Newbern, North Carolina has asked me to make public request that his name shall no longer be considered for the post of Democratic Leader in the senate."

Notwithstanding the fact that more than half the members of the present senate are supporting him, and he has other assurances that justify him in feeling most hopeful of success, Senator Simmons feels he must take this action in part upon consideration of his health and in part for reasons of party harmony.

"My colleague's physicians have advised him he must take rest and care of himself for several months to come, and they strongly warn him against undertaking any new duties, until he has fully recovered."

DIPLOMATIC BILL PASSED BY HOUSE

(By The Associated Press)

EXPECT DRAFT OF GENERAL TREATY AT GENEVA SESSIONS

Believed Lord Robert Cecil Will Take it to Meeting

(By The Associated Press)
GENEVA, Feb. 8.—When Lord Robert Cecil arrives here tomorrow for the meeting of the league of nations mixed commission for the reduction of armaments he is expected to have in his pocket for presentation a detailed draft of a general treaty providing for guarantees for the prevention of war and suggesting also practical measures for disarmament.

It is understood that the proposed treaty stipulates that if any nation is attacked the other signatories of the pact may adopt stated measures, provided there is a reduction of military forces effected, on a scale to be determined.

If any state feels that it is menaced it may call for a special meeting of the league council, which, if it decides that a menace actually exists may arrange protective measures against the danger.

Similarly if any state violates the armament restrictions agreed upon another state may appeal to the council. In case of actual attack the league will decide which country is the aggressor and will work out effective restraining measures.

The mutual guarantees would operate by continents, thus no European state would furnish troops for aggressions in the Americas, and the north and South American members would be relieved from furnishing troops for Europe.

The league leaders are not optimistic of definite action at present because of the existing political situation in Europe, which has reached a climax by the failure of the Lausanne conference to restore peace in the near east.

Judge Gives Advice For Married People

- (By The Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Feb. 8.—After having heard thousands of divorce actions Judge Walter P. Steffen of the superior court today gave out a list of ten commandments for married people. According to the judge, if these are not broken by either the wife or the husband there would be no business for a divorce judge. The commandments follow:
1. Avoid the first quarrel.
  2. Don't argue, nag or find fault.
  3. "Our" and not "mine" should be the home pronoun.
  4. Let there be no boss rule.
  5. Confine your intimacies to yourself—don't share them with your friends.
  6. Don't live with your in-laws.
  7. A little love and affection will prevent petty quarrels.
  8. Husbands must keep in mind that running the household is a tough, tiresome job. Be considerate and overlook the wife's nerves.
  9. Keep respect for each other.
  10. Protect the home with love insurance by having as many children as possible.

A THOUGHT
The soul of the signard deseth, and hath nothing; but the soul of the diligent shall be made fat.—Prov. 12:14.

Sloth makes all things difficult, but industry all things easy.—Benjamin Franklin.

Thirty-five years ago the total deposits in United States banks they amount to $28,000,000,000. The increase is in spite of the fact that in the meantime we have had a war that cost about as much as the latter figure. Yet some people think our form of government is no good, and are working to overthrow it and substitute some radical experiment of their own.

It is reported that the Bahamas have paid of their public debt with proceeds of liquor sold in the United States. Germany could pretty near pay off her debt with the proceeds of marks and bonds sold here, and France may be able to pay off her debt with the proceeds of charges imposed upon American tourists. Still, we are accused of being unwilling to help the rest of the world in its hours of trouble.

EVERYTHING STANDARDIZED
This is the day of standards.

Every profession that makes a pretense of organization or adopts a code of ethics is feeling the need of higher and higher standards of professional qualifications. Every food product that gains a place in the markets said to be up to standard and is required to be so.
Along with the move to put the trade mark of quality on every line of goods and trade of men has come the education of the public to the value of standardized service and material. Those who do not standardize whatever they have to sell, be it professional service or material product of labor, are at a disadvantage, and until either the law or the popularity of their goods gives them a brand, they must struggle against high competitive odds. Standardization protects the public and insures the market for the standard article.

THE IMMIGRATION PROBLEM
"Immigration," says Joseph M. Harriman of the Harriman National Bank of New York in Porches Magazine (N. Y.), "is the Nation's life-blood. The arteries of the human body contain, as we all know, the life blood. The circulating medium has its source in what the body takes. In the process of assimilation there are absorbed, of course, evil microbes that go with the better elements, but although we are unable to entirely separate them, yet we must not refuse to take what is essential for the maintenance of the blood because of the smaller part of impurities that accompanies the wholesome lot. All we can do is to be prudent and endeavor to discriminate taking the best we can obtain."
"So with the Nation. Because of the frightful war that came to the world, with its aftermath, it is not necessary that we should shut the doors to immigration in a manner that must eventually stifle industry. It would be like a man's becoming panic-stricken as to his health, and feeling that his salvation, physically, depended upon refusing to take food and so, slowly starving to death."
"We are living upon our own fat in this country at present, because of the necessities of others that have sprung from the Great War.

"Undoubtedly it will not be noticeable for some time that a big outside demand must come—a demand from the outside world to absorb our surplus and to provide the power so essential for a thriving busy, hustling country; but unless we prepare the way before that period does arrive, by a sane revision of our immigration laws, we shall have a problem which will prove most harmful to our whole economic system."

SOMETHING FOR O
(N. E. A.)
A scheme for getting rich quickly occurred to Rafael Gonzales, of Crizaba, Mexico. His erote, and businesslike letters to American newspapers, offering 50 daily and 75 Sunday copies to be sent regularly.
The fishing was good, for Gonzales promised to remit $100 upon receipt of the first shipment of papers. The idea of building up big circulation in Mexico naturally appealed to ambitious publishers. Maybe some of them wondered how many Mexicans could read at all, let alone read English print.
The postoffice inspectors in Washington, D. C., have issued a fraud order against Gonzales, barring him from the mails.
But Gonzales apparently got what he was after, for the official announcement from the inspectors says "Senor Gonzales has thus obtained large quantities of American newspapers for which he paid nothing and has doubtless realized no small revenue through their sale as wrapping paper."

Lately there has been a regular epidemic of frauds worked on Americans by swindlers in foreign countries using our mails.
In the particular case of Gonzales, it occurs to you that a man of his ingenuity was wasting his time on a waste paper swindle. The same cleverness, applied to an honest and useful proposition would make him increasingly rich.
The criminal mind, however, seems to have a peculiar warp that makes the getting of wealth by crooked means seem the easiest way. On the law of averages, it is easier to get rich honestly than dishonestly.
You can picture Gonzales, sitting around for months or even years, rolling shuck cigarettes and running his resourceful brain high speed until he figures out his scheme.
It is almost astounding, the extent to which the human brain will resort to get something for nothing. In other words, to "get by" without honest, useful endeavor.

It is true of swindlers. And it is true of most of us, especially the swindlers' victims. Wasting so much time, trying to get something for nothing, is what keeps many people poor. There's not enough time left for really productive effort.
Day-dreams, unless curbed within reasonable bounds, have the same effect as chloroform.

The ladies do not have charge of the dance that usually follows the card playing, but the hall is used for that recreation by those who wish to dance.
Thirty has been the usual number of tables filled, and the weather is agreeable they expect an unusually large number present on Monday evening. Members of the church and all other friends are cordially invited to come and enjoy the event.

COURBOIN RECITAL OF STRONG APPEAL
Organ Recital at Central Christian Church Last Night Was Musical Success of the Year.
What many local musicians consider the finest organ recital in the city within recent years, it was actually the finest solo program of a number of years, was given by Charles M. Courboin, organist, at the Central Christian church Thursday evening.
Mr. Courboin's Latin temperament made him choose numbers of appeal by reason of their melody and emotional power, and his interpretations were vivid and colorful. Technique, while flawless, was not brought to the front, and much of the numbers were distinctly of emotional appeal rather than of technical display. The program, probably the best chosen program of the season, alternated short, light-fingered, humorous numbers with the longer and heavier works.
Simple, folk-like melody, rare in a concert program, was present in at least half of the program numbers, as well as in the two final encores. And the complex structure of the longer numbers was so knit together that even those seemed to constitute, as few artists can make them seem, a unified expression of a central idea.
The soloist did not hesitate to make full use of liberties in tempo and crescendo to make each number a personal expression. The Bells of St. Anne de Baupre was a fine conception of the poetry of cathedral bells and had none of the air of dragging in the chimes for show purposes.
The Maile invocation, while short, drew great applause. The Chorals by Cesar Franck were perhaps the emotional climax of the program, and was Latin color to the core. Chinoiserie by Swinnee and the Serenade by Block, the latter used as encore, were delightful humorous bits, with all the carefree air of old fashioned holiday. As a final encore Mr. Courboin added Mozart's Minuet, a number used chiefly for violin. The audience gave him a rising ovation at the close of the performance. The program follows:
Concert Overture..... Rollo F. Maitland
Serenade..... Edwin Grasse
Allegretto..... Alphonse DeBoeck
Pamacaaglia.....
..... Johann Sebastian Bach
Invocation..... Alphonse Maillie
Chorale, No. 3..... Cesar Franck
Sketch, No. 4..... Robert Schumann
Bells of St. Anne de Baupre..... Alexander Russell
Chinoiserie..... Firmin Swinnee
Marche Heroique.....
..... Camille Saint-Saens
Serenade..... Block
Minuet..... Mozart

MURRAYVILLE CHURCH. SCENE OF WEDDING
Marriage of Miss Mary Burke and Leo T. Lahey Was Solemnized Recently—Will Reside Near Litchberry.
A pretty church wedding took place at Murrayville Wednesday morning, when Miss Mary Burke became the bride of Leo T. Lahey of Litchberry. The ceremony took place at St. Bartholomew's Catholic church, with Rev. Father McGinnis officiating.
The young people were attended by James J. Burke of New Berlin, a brother of the bride, and Miss Anna Lahey of Jacksonville, a sister of the groom.
The bride was attired in a navy blue tulle gown with hat to match, and carried a bouquet of white roses. She used the prayer book which her mother carried on her wedding day twenty-eight years ago this month.
The bridesmaid wore a brown suit with hat to match and wore a bouquet of sweet peas.
The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Burke, residing west of Murrayville, and is a young woman highly regarded by all who know her. She has been a teacher in the public schools of Scott and Morgan counties for the past five years, having graduated from the Murrayville high school with the class of 1917.
Mr. Lahey is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Lahey of Litchberry. He attended the public schools in his home community and was in the army service for fifteen months during the world war. He has been engaged in farming for the past several years, and is one of the prominent young men of the northern part of the county.

Following the ceremony the bridal party and relatives of the bride and groom partook of a sumptuous wedding breakfast at the home of the bride. In the afternoon they departed for a brief wedding trip, and will be at home to their friends after March 1 on a farm three miles east of Litchberry.

ROUTT HIGH WILL PLAY AT VIRGINIA

Meets Cass County Team Tonight—Defeated Virginia in Recent Game Here.

Route high school's basketball five will journey to Virginia tonight to meet the high school of that city in a return game. While Route high defeated Virginia recently here in rather easy fashion the Cass county aggregation always fight hard at home and Route no doubt will have a hard battle tonight.

Coach Coonen has been drilling his men hard the past week for the fray and if the game is lost it will not be thru lack of condition.

Route has been going strong this year and has a clean slate except for a defeat by New Berlin high in the first game of the season. New Berlin comes to Liberty hall for a return game next week and Route will try to even the score.

Coach Coonen is a student of Coach Meanwell who made the short pass famous at Wisconsin. The Route boys have mastered the short pass style of play and are meeting with success with the new game.

The following men probably will make the trip to Virginia: Gebert, Trahey, Galtons forward, Norris, Murphy center, Mallen, Doyle, Cleary, guards.

ILLINOIS COLLEGE WINS AT SHURTLEFF

Blue and White Repeat Victory Here, the Score this Time Being 31 to 12—Team Plays Rolla School of Mines Tonight.

Coca Harmon's Illinois College basketball squad defeated Shurtleff on the Shurtleff floor last night the score being 31 to 12. It was Illinois' second win over the Alton team, having defeated it a week ago here by a score of 27 to 17.

Illinois played more consistent basketball last night than she did against Shurtleff here. The score at the half was 16 to 7. In the game here Illinois scored nearly all of her points in the first half and then fell down in the last half, tho she won the game.

Hiatt was going strong for Illinois last night, scoring seven field goals. Mellon followed with three, Dale and Henry scored two each and Jack Roberts got one. Dale suffered a slight cut over his eye in the game but it is not serious and will not keep him out of the fray.

The Blue and White squad journeyed to Rolla today where the School of Mines five will be met tonight. This team is one of the strongest in Missouri and the local tossers have a hard job ahead of them. Tomorrow night they come back to St. Louis for a return game with St. Louis U. The score:

HERALD EXAMINER PASSES MILLION MARK

Joseph Estaque this week received a letter of congratulation from the management of The Chicago Herald and Examiner congratulating him on the paper he played in the circulation drive, which has resulted in The Sunday Chicago Herald and Examiner passing the million mark in circulation.

Announcement of last Sunday that The Chicago Herald and Examiner had attained a circulation of over a million, the Mecca of all Sunday newspapers, started the newspaper fraternity throughout the country. This is the first time that any newspaper west of New York has passed this circulation figure in circulation. The New York Sunday American is the only other paper in the country with more than a million circulation.

From the first Sunday in September to last Sunday, February 4, the Sunday circulation of The Chicago Herald and Examiner grew from 843,000 to more than 1,000,000, meaning that in five months it has increased its circulation more than 200,000.

Announcement of the achievement was telegraphed to William Randolph Hearst in New York last Sunday as follows:

"We are privileged to report that your Sunday Chicago Herald and Examiner today, February 4, 1923, crosses the million mark in circulation, thus passing the most significant milestone in its growth and achievement."

"This day more than one million copies of a single regular issue of this newspaper was distributed in response to definite dealers' orders."

"Your Chicago Herald and Examiner now stands alone—without a peer in its field and side by side with its brother, your New York American—the only newspapers in America with over a million circulation."

"It must be particularly gratifying to you to know that your Chicago Sunday newspaper achieved this million circulation entirely thru the spontaneous response of its public to your success in the production of the best Sunday newspaper."

"The result is a real tribute of thinking Americans to the high quality of your newspapers, their sterling worth and their sincerity of purpose."

"The popular appreciation of your efforts had added more than 350,000 new subscribers to your Sunday Herald and Examiner in the last five months."

"The record is unprecedented. We congratulate you."

"Victor H. Polachek,

"John A. Dickson,

"George W. Hinman,

"Edgar D. Shaw,

ELKS LOSE GAME TO NEW BERLIN INDEES

Locals, However, Play Much Better Game and With More Practice Will Give Any Team a Hard Fight—Visitors Were Fast.

The Elks basketball team lost to New Berlin in David Prince gymnasium Thursday evening the final score being 40 to 26.

However, the score does not show how hard the players fought. There was a lot of action throughout especially in the second half after Seymour got in the game for the Elks. Seymour was late in arriving from his home in Franklin. When he got here he put "pep" in the entire team and they played a strong game. Had he been in the game from the start it is likely that a different story might have been told.

The Elks held New Berlin well in the first half, the score at the half being 19 to 11. New Berlin has one of the fastest teams ever seen on the local floor and they played a wonderful game in the second half. It seemed they just couldn't miss the basket. Most of their shots were from the middle of the floor or at difficult angles from the sides but all dropped in cleanly. It was impossible for the Elks to beat such shooting as the visitors displayed in the last half.

The Elks have the making of a mighty sweet team if the men will get together and practice. It takes practice and especially condition to play that old basketball game. With Tomlinson, Woods, Seymour, Reynolds and Cain working together it would be a hard combination for any team in this section to beat. Let's hope they get together and get in shape and get teamwork developed. If they do Jacksonville fans can see some of the best independent contests ever staged and they can be staged between home teams too.

Woods, Seymour, Tomlinson and Cain scored the Elks points while Beers, Roesch, E. Kumie and H. Kumie scored New Berlin's points. The score:

CHARGES ARE MADE THAT GIRLS WERE FORCED TO MARRY

Affidavit Introduced in Court at Paw Paw, Mich.
Thursday

(By The Associated Press)
PAW PAW, Mich., Feb. 8.—Charges that 26 girls, members of the Israeli House of David, at Benton Harbor had been forced to marry men they did not love and who were selected for them by Benjamin Purnell, head of the sect, are made in an affidavit introduced in circuit court here in an $800,000 damage suit brought against Purnell by Ruth B. Reed and Gladys B. Hubel of Detroit. The affidavit was made by the plaintiffs who claim to be former members of the cult and to have been forced into marriage when 16 years of age.

Attorneys for the House of David offered affidavits by members of the colony challenging the veracity of the charges. The affidavit also charged immoral practices against Purnell and other members of the colony. Parents of the plaintiffs were wealthy residents of Australia when they came to Benton Harbor to join the cult, the complaint declares.

After being admitted all their property is alleged to have been turned over to Purnell. The mother still is a member, it is said, and is out of sympathy with the daughter's complaint.

Judge Desvoignes has reserved decision on a move for an injunction restraining service of a capias that would compel Purnell's personal appearance in the case.

WIVES AND BABIES OF SOLDIERS CARED FOR BY UNCLE SAM

Promise Early Discharge
for Husbands of Foreign Wives

(By The Associated Press)
SAVANNAH, Ga., Feb. 8.—A supply of fresh milk for the babies and a promise of almost immediate discharge from the army of their soldier husbands was Uncle Sam's gift and promise today to the twenty four German, Belgian and French wives who arrived here yesterday with the last of the army of occupation on board the transport St. Michel.

Because of an inadequate supply of household furnishings the women of foreign birth were provided with shelter tonight in the hostess house at Fort Screven. They were looking forward to release of their husbands as the solution of their many difficulties and officers of the fort were of the same mind. The supply of fresh milk roused the spirits of the children and mothers alike. On board the ship they had only powdered milk.

Presence of the women at the fort complicated matters considerably officers declared. The Y. M. C. A., hostess and Red Cross representative cared for the needs of the women and youngsters. The lack of quarters along non-commissioned officers row and the arrangements of the barracks at the fort does not permit separate quarters for the families, so the soldiers were bunked in the military buildings and the wives and children were grouped in the hostess house.

It is expected that this temporary arrangement will continue until the married men are discharged, some of whom may leave the fort tomorrow, others following within a week or ten days.

SUBWAY NEAR ARNOLD WILL SOON BE FINISHED

It is of general interest to know that the subway on the hard road east of Arnold is rapidly approaching completion. In fact, it is possible now to pass thru the subway but the job has not been completed and is not yet open for general traffic.

It is expected that in the course of a very few days the remaining work can be completed and the subway thrown open to general travel. The fact that the subway has been in course of construction has made a detour necessary at that point, with resulting inconvenience to the traveling public.

The completion of the work will make the road more convenient for travel and at the same time will do away with an element of danger as the sharp turn at the approach to the subway from the east had occasioned several accidents.

Mrs. E. H. Gray of Franklin visited with friends in Jacksonville on Thursday.

The Queen is doubly insulated. First there are double walls of California Redwood, forming a dead air space. Second, corrugated strawboard is used between the wooden walls. Proper insulation adds considerable expense to the manufacturing cost, but it is an absolute requirement of a good incubator.

The Queen is the only incubator that carries out the double Redwood wall construction all around, and provides a double wall front, in the way of two separate doors. The outer door is a solid panel of Redwood that is hinged entirely independent of the inner door and is fastened with a latch inside; draws it tight, thus making the loss of heat impossible.

The inner door is also of Redwood construction, containing a panel of glass the full length and height of the egg chamber.

BOYS ARRESTED ON PULLMAN COACH

White Hall, Feb. 8.—An incident of the devotion to detail by Edward S. Nichols, dean of Chicago and Alton conductors, has been brought to light in a way that is believed to have frustrated the thieving of the passengers on a sleeping car attached to the Hummer No. 10 out of Kansas City a few nights ago. Three boys boarded the train at Kansas City a few nights ago with tickets for Centralia, Mo.

At Centralia the conductor missed his three youthful passengers, and persisted in his search after leaving Centralia with the result that two of them were found under a lower berth. They were turned over to the police at Mexico. Later the third was found under the same berth, and he was turned over to the police at Louisiana. It had dawned on the conductor and his assistants that the concealment of the boys in the Pullman was conceived in order to pilfer valuables from the sleeping passengers. The boys were held at Mexico and Louisiana until it was fully determined that nothing valuable was missed by passengers. The berth under which the boys were concealed was occupied by a couple ticketed for Bloomington, and it was later learned that the boys were going to Bloomington claiming that they belonged at Champaign.

BOTTLE RELEASED IN MID-OCEAN RETURNS St. Louis, Mo.—John E. Hall, of this city, while on a world tour in 1921 enclosed a note in a corked bottle and threw it overboard between Auckland, New Zealand, and Honolulu. He offered a reward for its return to him. Thirteen months later a letter was received from a missionary in Sialoa, one of the British Solomon Isles, enclosing the note and announcing that the bottle had been found by a native on the island of Ulawa. The bottle is estimated to have travelled approximately 1,200 miles.

INCOME TAX FACTS

No. 11.

While, ordinarily, income is money, it does not follow that all money is taxable income. Unless favored with a gift or legacy, practically all the money received by a salaried man is income and taxable as such. But it is different in the case of a professional or business man. Such person is compelled to pay part of his receipts for business or professional expenses.

Arriving at the net or taxable income the taxpayer is allowed to deduct certain items, including all business expenses, from gross income. Gross income includes not only salary, wages, and other compensation for personal services rendered, but gains, profits, and income "from professions, vocations, trades business, commerce, or sales or dealings in property, whether real or personal x x x or the transaction of any business carried on for gain or profit, or gains or profits or income derived from any source whatever."

To determine the amount of net income a man in trade or business may claim as deductions from gross income a reasonable allowance for salaries paid employees, amounts spent for advertising, premium for insurance against fire or other business losses, rent paid for store or warehouse, the cost of light, fuel, water, telephone, stationery, postage, etc., used in his office, of business, drayage and freight bills and the cost of operation and repair of delivery wagons or trucks.

A professional man—physician, dentist, architect, etc.—may claim as deductions the cost of supplies used by him in his practice, expenses paid in the operation and repair of an automobile used for professional calls, dues to professional societies, subscriptions to professional journals, office rent, the cost of fuel, light, heat and water used in such office, and the hire of assistants.

"THE CIRCLE" COMING TO THE GRAND

There is a real treat in store for theatergoers at the Grand theater, Thursday, Feb. 15th, when the Selwyns will present Somerset Maugham's celebrated comedy, "The Circle," with an all star cast, the most elaborate that has ever been sent on tour. In assembling five of the most important stars on the American stage to represent this international success which ran for one year in New York at the Selwyn Theater, a year in London at the Haymarket theater, and a year in Paris, the Selwyns have set a pace that other managers will find it difficult to follow. Included in the cast of stars that will present the play here, is Wilton Lackaye, who has given the stage such pronounced success as "Trilby," "The Pit," "Children of the Ghetto," etc. Henry E. Dixey who will be remembered for his finished and artistic characterization in "Mary Jane's Pa," "The Man on the Box," "The Rivals," and others.

The name of Amelia Bingham means much to any play and her success in "The Climbers," "A Modern Magdalen," and "La Tosca," is still fresh with local playgoers. Charlotte Walker, who created a sensation in "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine," and starred successfully in "The Warrens of Virginia," "Tea for Three," "Nancy Lee," "Call the Doctor," and others. Norman Hackett needs no introduction to local theatergoers, his work with Sothorn and Marlowe, Robert Mantell, Louis James and Margaret Anglin before he became a star in "Classmates," "The Typhoon," "Beau Brummel," and several other plays is remembered by patrons of the playhouse.

"The Circle" was endorsed unanimously by every critic in New York as the best play in years. Cast in such a grand manner it should prove the big treat of the season and it would be well for those desiring to witness it to send in their reservation by mail at once.

2. To help other people at all times;

3. To keep myself physically strong, mentally awake and morally straight.

Scout Law:

4—A Scout is Friendly

He is a friend to all and a brother to every other scout.

5—A Scout is Courteous

He is polite to all, especially to women, children, old people, and the weak and helpless. He must not take pay for being helpful or courteous.

6—A Scout is Kind

He is a friend to animals. He will not kill nor hurt any living creature needlessly, but will strive to save and protect all harmless life.

7—A Scout is Obedient

He saves his money so that he may pay his own way, be generous to those in need and helpful to all worthy objects. He may work for pay but must not receive tips for courtesies or good turns.

10—A Scout is Brave

He has courage to face danger in spite of fear and to stand up for the right against the coaxings of friends or the jeers or threats of enemies, and defeat does not down him.

11—A Scout is Clean

He keeps clean in body and thought, stands for clean speech, clean sport, clean habits, and travels with a clean crowd.

12—A Scout is Reverent

WILL ENLARGE WHITE HALL DRUG STORE

White Hall, Feb. 8.—Dr. W. T. Jones, in charge of the White Hall branch of the Armstrong Drug Co. of Jacksonville, has found it necessary to issue a statement in refutation of rumors that there is to be a sale of the store here, saying there is no foundation for such story, and that instead it is planned rather to enlarge the store in order to better meet the growing needs of White Hall along mercantile lines. When started the story is a mystery, and the statement here mentioned resulted from an interview by the reporter to get at the truth of the matter.

Dr. Jones has become one of the foundation stones in the local bond organization, and it was his suggestion that the splendid quarters in the Ruckel building were placed at the disposal of the band free of charge by C. A. Ruckel, one of the finest acts of philanthropy in the history of the band, and which has contributed immensely to its present attainment under the direction of F. J. Brooks. The band will play for the third community forum to be held in Princess theater Sunday night, and there will be a free will offering to be turned over to the band.

POLICE OBJECT TO BEING MADE GOAT

Belleville—Poking fun at the Belleville police force has become such a popular pastime with vaudeville actors who visit this city that the force is considering ways and means to stop railleury. Members of the department are planning to send a committee to wait on managers of local theaters asking them to delete all jokes directed at policemen.

Because of the favorable greeting which invariably replies to these quips, the actors have been working them overtime. The police feel this form of fun lowers the dignity of the force.

ARTICLE IN TRIBUNE LAUDS LOCAL SCHOOL

Dr. W. A. Evans in an article in the Chicago Tribune for Thursday morning, gives high praise to Jacksonville for its open air school, known as the Josephine Milligan school. Dr. Evans shows that the average town of this size does not have such an institution, and gives the citizens of Jacksonville credit for a different line of reasoning. He brings out the fact that such schools are needed in the smaller more than in the larger cities, as the children in the larger cities are now drinking pasteurized milk.

He describes Jacksonville as a city of 16,000 people, with a population of 2,000 school children. Of this number about three percent are in need of the advantages afforded by an open air school, and the city has endeavored to give them such advantages.

DR. TAYLOR SPEAKS TO MEDICAL SOCIETY

Man Who Knows History of Medical Legislation in State Tells Doctors of Difficulties in Securing Laws—Discussion Follows Address.

An interesting address on the "History of Medical Legislation in Illinois" was delivered last night before the meeting of the Morgan County Medical Society at the Peacock Inn. Dr. L. C. Taylor of Springfield, who has served for years on the legislative committee of the State Medical Society was the speaker. He told of the struggles which medical men have had to fare in securing the passage of laws protecting the public against mal-practice of medicine and providing for licensing of practitioners. The fight was begun in the legislature in 1869, and after nearly ten years of effort, during which bill after bill failed of passage, the first medical practice act was placed on the statute books, May 29, 1877.

From this time the standards of the medical profession were gradually raised, both by law and by educational requirements. The act passed in 1893, however, was not passed in 1917; but this has been declared unconstitutional by the State Supreme Court, legal technicalities, being to blame for the decision. There is now pending before the legislature another medical practice bill sponsored by the Illinois State Medical Society as well as several other medical bills of minor importance.

Dr. Taylor's address was followed by a general discussion of the subject. Those who took part were Dr. Edward Bowe, Dr. Carl E. Black and Dr. F. P. Norbury. The meeting was preceded by a luncheon. A good attendance of local physicians and those from out of the city marked the regular monthly clinic held Thursday at Our Savior's hospital and Jacksonville State hospital.

WILL BE CHOSEN LOCAL POST MASTER

William A. Fay's Name Sent By Postmaster General to President Harding for Approval.

The early appointment of W. A. Fay as postmaster of Jacksonville to succeed R. Iph L. Dunlap, whose term expired several months since, is indicated in the following dispatch received in Jacksonville Thursday afternoon:

"Washington, Feb. 8.

"W. A. Fay's name sent forward to President Harding by the postmaster general this afternoon."

Recently Mr. Fay was selected by Congressman Shaw from a list of three who stood highest in the civil service examination and his name was sent to the fourth postmaster general, who is in charge of appointments. As the result of Congressman Shaw's action, the name now goes to the president for executive approval. In the regular course the name of Mr. Fay with the names of appointees for other post offices will come before the senate for confirmation.

It is likely that the appointment will become effective in about two weeks.

DR. HARDESTY RESIGNS FROM OAK LAWN BOARD

Physician Gives Up Work Because of Excessive Demand on His Time.

The resignation of Dr. T. O. Hardesty as a member of the Oak Lawn sanatorium board has been presented to the county commissioners and accepted. Dr. Hardesty in presenting his resignation stated that he felt that it was necessary to give up the work which has made such heavy demands upon his time, as a matter of justice to himself and his family.

In his note of resignation Dr. Hardesty said, "In February, 1922 I was appointed by the board as business manager, and as such I have given the most of my time and energy and practically all of my thought to make this proposition good."

"I have done my best without remuneration, which is my reasonable service to Morgan county and I thank you for the privilege of service."

When the present board took charge of Oak Lawn an immense amount of unfinished work remained to be done, and today the sanatorium is a first class standard hospital of thirty beds, fully organized and running smoothly.

Dr. Hardesty has devoted himself with great zeal and efficiency to this work. His time has been given without stint and the good business judgment shown has resulted in many economies.

The records relating to the work of the year have been compiled in such form that Dr. Hardesty's work and interest that they will be of increasing value in succeeding years.

PARK BOARD CONSIDERS PLANS FOR THE YEAR

Committee Will Work Out Rules For Swimming Pool Control—More Trees For Mauvaisterre Lake Park—Financial Report Made.

Members of the park board met Wednesday night for general discussion of park board affairs in relation to the coming year. Members of the board present were Mrs. George Hollinger, A. C. Metcalf, Terrance Brennan and T. W. Beadle.

Much of the discussion related to the swimming pool, which is to be put into condition for use the coming season. A wire fence is to be built around the pool and temporary bath houses erected. It will be necessary to have these structures of a temporary kind because the board does not have funds available for the erection of permanent houses.

Seats are to be arranged near the pool for the use of spectators. A committee was appointed including T. W. Beadle, Mrs. Hollinger and T. J. Brennan, to confer with the chamber of commerce, relative to rules for the control of the pool. These rules will outline among other things the bathing suit requirements. It is proposed to make some changes at the west end of the pool which will make it more adaptable for the use of children.

The board is preparing to purchase a large number of small trees for Mauvaisterre Lake park. Various other matters occupied attention, the session lasting for several hours. The annual report of receipts and expenditures as made by Treasurer Brennan set forth the following financial facts:

"WAIT A MINUTE"

A missionary play entitled "Wait a Minute," will be given as the closing feature of the Baptist Church School of Missions on next Sunday night in the auditorium of the First Baptist church by the Senior B. Y. P. U. This performance was given at the Illinois Baptist State Convention at Centralia last October and was received with much favorable comment. The story centers about a young woman who asserts that world-wide missions is none of her business, but who is startled by grandfathers hall room clock saying, "Tick, Toek, Behold I stand at the door and Knock." Thru the face of the clock come the natives of all lands saying "Wait a Minute," and turning the young woman not to make her decision before she has heard the plea of college, community center, native land and foreign field. The committee in charge of the play are Miss Lillian Swift, Paul Gard and Byron Stewart.

On Monday night, Lincoln's Birthday, the men and boys of the church will hold their annual Father and Sons Banquet in the basement of the church at 6:30 P. M. Preparations are being made for one hundred diners and a student committee will attempt to out do last years program. The banquet "dads" are G. W. Gard, Jonas Wilson and C. O. Swift.

S. W. NICHOLS WRITES INTERESTING LETTER

Further Reminiscences in Connection With Strawn Hall Given by Local Man Now Staying in Arizona.

The following letter was recently written to the Journal by S. W. Nichols from Tombstone, Ariz. Mr. Nichols refers briefly to climatic and other conditions in the southern state and then tells some interesting stories in connection with Strawn's hall, which was destroyed by fire several weeks since. Mr. Nichols' letter is given below:

Tombstone, Ariz., Jan. 31, '23.
Dear Journal: When I was in Arizona two years ago I mentioned in a letter to the paper that I was glad I came here instead of going to Florida where I had been informed the climate was somewhat damp.

The letter found its way to the editor of a paper in Kissimmee, Fla., and the poor man almost went into convulsions. He wrote nearly a column berating me and praising the salubrious climate of his beloved state. I wonder what would happen to him if he should see the letter from Palm Beach which recently appeared in the paper. I fear he would have to be carried home on a stretcher.

Not long since a wonderful tribute was paid here to the result of the XVIIIth amendment. It should be remembered that this is a decidedly frontier locality. Naco, half United States and half Mexico, is but 35 miles distant; Nogales, quite a city, half and half, is but 50 miles away; Douglas, on the border, is 40 miles off while in several places one can get to the wire fence separating the two countries by going not 25 miles.

Workmen making state hard roads labor seven days a week right along and in this place a contractor building a new high school structure informs his men they can work Sundays or quit. Many places of business are kept open all days of the week and romantic cowboys are not an uncommon sight. A visit to Naco, Nogales or any border town would make a booze lover frantic if he crosses the line and sees the saloon shacks with their gaudy display of all kinds of ardent spirits.

From all this it would be naturally supposed that prohibition wouldn't amount to much here. Of course many bring in a hip pocket load of refreshments but when a meeting in honor of the amendment was held in this place a few days since, J. P. Ross, the efficient state's attorney for this county, made a remarkable address. He is well versed in law, a prominent man in the community and well able to give an intelligent opinion. He said substantially:

"Since the amendment went into effect the business of my office prosecuting law offenders, has fallen off three-fourths. We used regularly to have a case of wife beating in an average one each month but for two years we have had none at all.

Nevertheless I anticipate that congress will eventually repeal the Volstead act and restore beer and light wines when there will be a fearful orgie of intemperance. There will be no restriction on the selling of either and they will flow like water and conditions will become so rank that it will not be necessary to travel beyond the limits of the town after dark.

Finally it will become so intolerable that the masses will arise in their might and drive the stuff, root and branch, from the land and then we shall have genuine temperance. We know what has taken place in the past. Liquor men have been largely responsible for the temperance wave that has passed over the land. Instead of being satisfied to conduct their business within the law they have overreached in every way keeping open Sundays, after legal closing hours, selling to minors, tolerating and encouraging the presence of immoral women, gambling and the like in the saloons till people became disgusted and drove them out.

The same thing, I predict, will take place as I have stated and while it will be a fearful price to pay for a temperance nation that will be the outcome."

After the meeting I told him why Jacksonville went dry before the amendment when but a small fraction of the saloon keepers tried their best to keep within the law inspiring people to vote the town dry.

An incident a little out of the ordinary took place here a few days ago. A well dressed, very respectable looking lady, apparently in the fifties, called at the parsonage and made herself known. She said she was a school teacher by profession and had spent her life in the State of New York. She had never married. The climate there so severe in the winter she couldn't stand it and was on her way to the home of a relative in California.

She had ridden on the railroad as far as her money would take her but for a long time had been working her way. She said she had received kind and courteous treatment right along wherever she had gone. She generally managed to get a ride with some auto tourist or traveler and pay for her keep by housework in the places in which she had remained over night or longer.

The minister's good wife said she would willingly give her quarters but every room in the house was occupied but said if the stranger was unable to find quarters anywhere else to come back and room would be made for her. Two of the hotels here are conducted by ladies and to one of them she went and as she didn't return I suppose she found accommodations and a ride to Tucson whither she hoped to get soon on her way toward the setting sun.

I want to record one more reminiscence in connection with the Strawn building. Early in the year 1888 there arrived in Jacksonville a Scotch artist and gentleman of rank, George Ambrose McNeill of Argyleshire, Scotland. He was leisurely traveling thru America taking in places of interest as his fancy dictated. I formed a very pleasant acquaintance with him and found him a very genial, cultivated gentleman.

One morning I asked him if he would like to visit our high school and witness some rhetorical exercises and he said he would, so we went down to the Washington building where the high school was then conducted and heard some excellent recitations.

After they were over the distinguished visitor spoke in terms of great praise of the young people and I remarked there was material for the cast of a play. Miss Lyde Kent, the efficient superintendent of schools, remarked that they needed money for a library and would like to have a benefit.

Miss Sadie Graves was the principal of the high school and we discussed the matter and decided to present "A Celebrated Case," a rather ambitious undertaking. I can't undertake to name all the characters by any means, but I will remember Misses Eva Hammond, Lottie Fox, Minnie Bacon, Grace Cassell, Edith Paxton, Linnie Cruise; Messrs. Charley Brown, E. E. Crabtree, Cliff Van Zandt, Frank McDougall, to full of mischief, and others.

With much work we rigged up a stage on the platform in the hall and presented our play and I had the pleasure of handing Miss Kent something more than a hundred dollars.

After the play was over the members of the cast mournfully contemplated disbanding as they had had so much fun rehearsing and presenting the play and wanted to have another but as it was then April I told them it wouldn't be possible before the end of school but after school we would have one in vacation.

The cast was made and rehearsals begun but the weather was warm and one after another dropped out till it became evident that the play would be impracticable so I told those who had remained faithful that I would treat them to a trip to Springfield.

Those who had stuck to me were the ones mentioned above with the exception of Miss Cruise and Frank McDougall. Miss Ida Fox was invited to join us and we had a fine time in the state capital. We shook hands with the governor, went over the state house, visited the tomb of Lincoln and the rolling mills and watch factory and put in a busy day. On the return trip the young people mournfully asked if we then must disband but I told them I most certainly enjoyed their company if they liked mine and to that they unanimously assented so we then and there organized a little club and the good times we had during the succeeding six years would require a good sized book to record.

They met at my house each two weeks several plays were put on the plays being written especially for the members of the club. All were good on the stage though it was generally conceded that Miss Hammond was the star of the company and that with all honors to the others. Had the young lady adopted the stage as a profession she certainly would have risen to eminence as was also the case with her talented sister, Miss Hatfield.

Each summer we had an excursion to Chicago, remaining several days and taking in the sights of the great metropolis. Once at a hotel at which we were staying a lady guest said to me "You have some very fine looking daughters, sir," and then I felt much flattered but she partly spoiled it by adding, "I can't say they very much resemble their father." Once we took a trip to the head of Lake Michigan and during the years we had many day trips in the country, to St. Louis, Havana or Riverside park.

Some of the members of the club were cast in other plays given and their services were much in demand. Once when in Chicago I wanted to show them a metropolitan newspaper office and took them to the plant of the Evening Journal, when the proprietor himself almost caused the office force to faint away, took charge of us and showed us all through, presses and all, and as we were leaving he remarked he had owned that plant seventeen years and had not even showed his wife thru. Three of the club, Mr. Brown, Misses Paxton and Ida Fox, are no more, and Mr. Crabtree, our efficient mayor, alone remains in Jacksonville.

Carpenter Declares Tanlac Quickly Overcame Indigestion and Run Down Condition

"Since taking Tanlac, I can climb and bend and hammer all day without feeling tired out," was the characteristic statement made recently by Olof Risberg, 4216 Alcott Ave., East Chicago, Indiana, well-known contracting carpenter.

"That shows what fine working trim Tanlac puts a man in. Why, three bottles or just half the full treatment has made me feel just like I wanted to feel."

"For months, I had been in a nervous, run-down condition, unable to sleep right at night and so weak throughout the day I hardly felt like pulling my saw. I was mighty hard hit by loss of appetite, indigestion, headaches and dizziness and my body was just a bundle of excited nerves."

"Well, Tanlac was just what my system needed and I picked up in quick time. Now, the indigestion and nervousness have left me entirely and I'm eating, sleeping and feeling fine."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists.

Over 35-million bottles sold.

Rowe as chairman of the crop committee of the Farm Bureau, has asked that all members of that committee meet at the farm bureau office at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon for the purpose of discussing projects along the crop line for the various communities in the county. The following are the members of the Crop Committee: Harrison Robinson, F. C. Trotter, W. W. Henderson, Charles A. Ogil, Roy Burrus, Arthur Roegge, Frank B. Foster, George W. Lockhart, Yuba Y. Funk, Charles E. Hadden, John V. Smith, J. M. Wynn, Milford Rees, S. M. Butler, Frank W. Ranson, Richard McConnell, Leslie Leak, R. D. Mawson, J. L. Thady.

Livestock Committee
The following livestock committee has been named with Lester Reed as chairman. A number of the members of this livestock committee are introduced to the county for the first time. As in the appointment of other committees an effort has been made to get men who hold no other position in the farm bureau. The following is the personnel of the committee: Geo. W. Carder, Amos Swain, H. W. Petefish, H. B. Rentschler, H. W. Musch, H. H. Roegge, Geo. W. Colwell, F. E. Drury, Oliver Hamm, S. P. Cleary, J. W. Wallace, J. E. Gray, E. D. Scott, C. W. Watson, Charles Schofield, John Neuman, Burley Wright, Charles Sullivan, James Myers.

Care of the Breeding Birds
After a pen of breeders has been selected the management problem becomes one of how to produce fertile, hatchable eggs. The principles are the same whether fifteen eggs or fifteen thousand eggs are to be set at one time. Profitable egg production demands that pullets be hatched early in the spring—many weeks in advance of the normal and natural breeding season. This alone makes the problem a difficult one. Conditions under the control of the feeder must be made so like those of the natural breeding season that the hens will respond by laying eggs that will hatch. It is perhaps obvious that the breeders must be in good physical condition. This means good flesh without an excessive surplus of fat in any part of the body. Hens or pullets that have been fed for eggs thru all the winter are frequently in a more or less run-down condition by spring so that their eggs, even tho fertile, have not the power to hatch. High fertility means little if hatchability runs low. It is assumed that the breeders have not been forced for eggs during the winter months and are in good flesh they may be given an ordinary laying ration of scratch feed and dry mash with particular attention to the following things in addition:
1. Exercise—All scratch grain should be fed in litter to promote exercise and a good circulation.
2. Outdoor range—It will be better for the breeders, from the standpoint of hatchability, if they are allowed to run outdoors on pleasant days all winter long.
3. Green Food—A liberal supply is essential to good hatchability. This should be really green—sprouted oats, cabbages, and so forth, not merely succulent as beets.
4. Milk in some form is a very valuable feed for the breeders. They must have an adequate supply of the things contained in milk if they are to produce strong chicks. Fresh skim milk or buttermilk is probably best. Powdered milk and semi-solid buttermilk are excellent substitutes for the raw product. See that the breeding birds have access to one of the three.

If these precautions are followed with birds housed in well-lighted open-front houses the breeders should be able to give a good account of themselves during the hatching season. L. E. Card, Poultry Div., U. of I.

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—Speculators for the advance continued to bid up in stocks in today's market selecting new leaders, particularly in the food, sugar and tobacco groups, to replace those whose advance had been halted by realizing sales and short selling.

In most cases however, the reactionary tendency was held within fractional limits indicating good buying support below current price levels.

Secretary of the Treasury Mel-lon's optimistic forecast of business and trade conditions and further favorable trade news more than counteracted the effect of the disquieting news dispatches from the Near East which, however, had a depressing effect on the foreign exchange.

United States Steel, common, Baldwin, Studebaker and most of the other active and popular shares all showed small net changes at the close.

Rail shares also moved within narrow limits.

Call money opened at 4 per cent and then advanced to 4 1/2 percent where it closed. Brokers bid 4 1/2 percent for time money but bankers demanded five, some renewals but little new business being arranged below the higher figure.

Out of town bankers were the principal takers of commercial paper the bulk of the prime names commanding 4 1/2 percent.

Changes in the United States government bonds were as follows: 3 1/2s up 3/4; First 4 1/2s up 1/2;
Second 4 1/2s down 1/4; Third 4 1/2s down 1/4 and Fourth 4 1/2s up 1/2.

Speculative railroad mortgages and industrial issues were the most active in the trading in today's bond market.

What Does It Mean to 'Have Your Block Ground'

We take the motor out of the chassis and completely disassemble it.

We carefully clean and measure all wearing surfaces.

Cylinder casting goes to grinding machine, a delicate and expensive machine because of its accurately machined moving parts. This must be operated by skilled mechanics.

A typical grinding machine construction is as follows: a diamond grit cutting stone about 3/4 inch wide and 3 inches in diameter, mounted on floating spindle, revolves at high speed at same time slowly moving in circle in plane of rotation. A moving carriage supports cylinder block drawing cylinder over rotating wheel. This mechanism allows operator to accurately adjust circumference of cutting circle to suit bore of cylinder, and successive minute cuts can be taken through cylinder until surface is perfectly round and straight. The final cuts correspond to polishing, leaving surface smooth and mirror-like in appearance.

Morgan County's Centenary County Established January 31, 1823 Some Pioneer History

FROM MANUSCRIPTS OF FRANK J. HEINL
In compiling this story of a century ago errors may have crept in and important facts may have been omitted. Suggestions and corrections will be acceptable.

Kentucky.

Most of the settlers in Morgan county who came during the decade following the advent of the county's first whites came from or thru Kentucky.

The English colonists on the Atlantic Coast were slow to push over the mountains. However, just before Joliet and Marquette came down the Mississippi, Virginia colonists crossed the Appalachian divide and pitched camp in the Great Valley and they fore-shadowed the great migrations of the future. The English advance was slow and secure. They did not reach out until settlements at their back offered them a safe base for operations. A few years before the French and Indian War the British government granted vast tracts of land west of the mountains to land companies. A few trading posts were established and some surveys made but the outbreak of the war and the border warfare which raged for several years after its close delayed colonization. Daniel Boone entered the "dark and bloody ground" in 1769, and before the opening of the Revolutionary war, explorers and hunters had covered much of Kentucky and Tennessee and after 1775, even during the war, there was a constantly increasing flood of colonists from Virginia and the Carolinas into what are now the states of Kentucky and Tennessee. Kentucky's first settlers were hunters and pioneer farmers, not intent upon founding settlements, but fond of the wild adventurous, lonesome, unrestrained life of the frontiersman. The original stock consisted of the hardest race of backwoods-men.

The population of Kentucky in 1800 was something less than 200,000, about one-fifth of whom were slaves. About one-half the whites had come from Virginia and the rest mostly from the Carolinas and Maryland with a sprinkling of Pennsylvanians.

The Kentuckians who came into Illinois in pioneer days were of three classes. There were native

Kentuckians, children of the first settlers in that region, there were natives of the coast colonies who had lived in Kentucky for periods varying from one or two years to forty years or more and there were Virginians, Carolinians and Tennesseans who came thru Kentucky and tarried there but a short time and all of these gloried in the name "Kentuckian."

Some of the Kentuckians came to Illinois by way of the Ohio river, some of them came overland and some of them, like Abraham Lincoln, lived in Indiana or Ohio for a time before coming to Illinois.

The Rush Westward.

With the approach of the winter of 1817-18 the rush westward, for the first time in history, suffered but little decline, and put on an aspect it had never before worn. In this emigration farmers and men of wealth were in the minority, artisans, mechanics, professional men and representatives from the poorest ranks of society were in the majority.

A family of eight on their way from Indiana walked to Easton, Penn., in midwinter, dragging the children and their worldly goods in a handcart. A blacksmith crossed Massachusetts and New York in mid-winter with clothes, food and two children in a four-wheeled cart and the mother with a child at breast and with seven other children trudged along. Another family, man, wife and five children emigrated with all their household goods in a wheelbarrow. These examples of extreme type were examples of the class that a few months later choked the ferries and crowded the western highways.

In the spring the great highways of New York and Pennsylvania carried an almost continuous stream of carts, wagons and foot parties. At Haverhill, Massachusetts, a train of sixteen wagons with 120 men, women and children from Durham, Maine, passed in one day. In thirteen days seventy-three wagons and four hundred and fifty emigrants passed thru the same town. Five hundred and eleven wagons with 3,066 persons passed Easton, Pa., in one month. Two thousand and one families numbering 16,009 people passed westward over one turnpike in Pennsylvania between March and December. The editor of the Genesee Farmer met one train of some twenty wagons and one hundred and sixteen persons on their way to Louisiana from one New England town alone.

Steamboats.

The first steamboat operated on Western waters made a voyage from Pittsburgh to New Orleans in 1811. Nicholas J. Roosevelt, uncle of Theodore Roosevelt, its owner, gauged and sounded the rivers and operated the vessel as a trader between the two points until she was snagged and lost. In 1812 or 1814 there were a number of steamboats plying around Pittsburgh, St. Louis and New Orleans. Fifteen hundred flat-bottomed boats and 500 barges floated to New Orleans from the upper country in 1817. During the same year goods valued at three and a half million dollars were carted to Pittsburgh for shipment down the Ohio. Pittsburgh became the greatest distributing center in this country. Louisville had become a great shipping center, and New Orleans was a center of steamboating, where 18 were trading regularly.

Shawneetown. In 1818 Shawneetown was the metropolis of eastern Illinois and the chief town on the Ohio below Louisville. Of it a traveler in 1818 said, "Considerable business is being done here, as it is on the road from the southern states to St. Louis, and the Missouri. The number of wagons, horses and passengers crossing, and waiting to cross the Ohio, was so great, that a great part of the morning was spent in waiting for my turn, at length I grew impatient, turned my back on Illinois and landed in Kentucky."

St. Louis. St. Louis from its foundation was a trading center, but after its transfer from France to the United States in 1804 it became what it has since remained, the most important center on the upper Mississippi river. From Shawneetown several much traveled trails led to St. Louis as did another from Vincennes, which had become an important town. The first steamboat arrival at St. Louis, that of the Pike, was in 1817.

Another Jacksonville. As early as 1815 the advantages of the site across the river from St. Louis were observed and it was platted with the name of Jacksonville, reputed as the Town of Illinois, known for years as Illinois town and now as East St. Louis.

Answer These Important Questions—

Have you ever had cause to doubt that you enjoy perfect vision? Do your eyes feel sore after a spell of close work—aching, smarting, or feeling as if sand or grit was lodged behind the lids? Do you ever, while reading, find that the print suddenly "goes misty" and confused? Is it necessary for you to hold your book or newspaper further away from the eyes than formerly—or do you need stronger light? Do you find that reading or sewing for an extra hour or two causes headaches?

If you have noticed any of these peculiarities with your eyes you should have them carefully examined. Call and see us at once.
